Humidity

A home should have a relative humidity of 30% to 60%. Above 60% and you have what is considered high humidity. Besides being less comfortable, high humidity causes a host of other problems in your home, including: Growth of fungus and mold in various parts of the home.